Additional Information

1. Shareholders' Equity
   - The company's shareholders' equity is presented in various sections, with the method of calculation presented in the consolidated statements. The shareholders' equity is presented in the financial statements.
   - Shareholders' equity is calculated by subtracting the total liabilities from the total assets. The shareholders' equity is presented in the financial statements.

2. Other Profit/loss for the period after tax (B)
   - Other profit/loss for the period after tax is presented in the financial statements. The amount is calculated by subtracting the operating profit from the total profit for the period.

3. Gross Profit
   - Gross profit is calculated by deducting the cost of sales from the revenue. The gross profit is presented in the financial statements.

4. Other Reconciliation figures
   - The other reconciliation figures are presented in the financial statements. The figures are calculated based on the company's operations and financial performance.

Furthermore

- The company's financial statements are audited by external auditors. The auditors' report is presented in the financial statements.
- The financial statements are prepared in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) and comply with the provisions of the relevant laws and regulations.
- The company's financial performance is presented in the financial statements, including the profit and loss account, balance sheet, and cash flow statement.

Notes

- The financial statements are presented in a clear and concise manner, enabling readers to understand the company's financial position and performance.
- The notes to the financial statements provide additional information about the company's operations and financial position.

Conclusion

The company's financial performance is strong, with a positive profit and loss account and a healthy balance sheet. The company's cash flow is positive, indicating a strong financial position. The company's operations are focused on leasing and rental services, and the company continues to invest in new initiatives and expansion.